Dear Obama Administration,

I am very disappointed with the recent Forest Planning Rule Proposal that was recently released. By eliminating essential measurement tools, serious consideration of sound science, and dissolving any national standard to maintain healthy forest's, you are turning your back on the very principles you campaigned on. The proposed rule does not require the Forest Service to show that management actions are actually maintaining viable fish and wildlife populations. Why not? Because that might cause activities such as old-grow tree logging, mountain-top removal, and mining to be disturbed? All things that President Obama has publicly spoken out against. And while I understand that we are under fiduciary constraints, this is a complete slap in the face to the American people. To have corporations ruin our environments and then over half of them don't even pay their taxes (according to a new Congressional report) and now you want to ham-string the EPA while rolling back protections on our Forests. I am very disillusioned with these decisions. Please do not allow this to happen, or you be forcing me to reconsider my vote in 2012.

Sincerely,
Your Constituent
