In so many ways, America seems to be reverting to its old ways rather than using our long term vision in an attempt to heal what we have already broken. Please use your long term vision senses and your sense of what is truly right for the future generations and ensure that the 1982 Viability Standard (219.19) is retained in the National Forest Management Plan that is about to be enacted. I don't know whose ears will hear my plea, but I hope our great President Obama will hear it and understand the importance of the Stantard.

Our most important attributes in America today seem to be under attack, the struggling middle class, our fellow inhabitants who live in our wild places and their homes among the trees and waterways.

Thank you for allowing me to comment on this issue and I can only hope that I can truly make a difference.

Most sincerely yours,
Holly Parker
