Comments

Dear Forest Service,

What species will benefit from the proposed rule change and what species will be hurt? How will this rule change affect the spread of weeds in the National Forests? The new proposed rule does not contain direction to include measurable "must-do" natural resource standards in the revised forest plans. It only requires the revised plans to have guidelines. Compliance with guidelines is voluntary. This will not ensure the viability of native plants, fish and animals.

Sincerely,
 Michael Garrity
 Executive Director
 Alliance for the Wild Rockies
